Although Gangi Electrics has grown fast, we still live by the same Gangi family ethics of integrity, reliability and respect. And we're still delivering innovative end-to-end solutions that solve our client's problems.

Who We Are

Over the last forty years Sebastiano Gangi built his reputation and the Gangi Electrics company by consistently providing his clients with reliable, high quality electrical solutions.

He became well known for his transparency, integrity and industry-best workmanship.

Gangi Electrics has been Cotton On Group's preferred electrical contractor for over 12 years and we highly recommend them to any organisation. During this time they've been instrumental in the expansion of our head office in North Geelong Victoria, working collaboratively with our principal builders and Cotton On team.

Gangi Electrics has undertaken extensive electrical, lighting, data and security maintenance and upgrade works throughout our precinct, including major infrastructure upgrades, while causing minimal interruption to our business. We have an excellent working relationship with the management team and we've found that every member of the Gangi crew is reliable, committed and professional.

Same values, new generation

When Sebastiano entered his well-earned retirement, he passed the operation of the business on to his sons and daughter, Daniel, Robert and Carla.

They continue to own and operate it today, living by the same diligent, reliable, customer-first ethos that Sebastiano had back in 1978 - while bringing the company to the next level with forward thinking innovation and national growth.

Be part of the Gangi family

When you work with Gangi Electrics you can be confident that you're working with a business that prioritises long-term relationships and treats our clients and staff like they're part of the family.

The iconic Albert Park Hotel recently underwent a dramatic transformation; an extensive project that was years in the making for Colonial Leisure Group.

We chose Gangi Electrics to undertake all electrical, data and security works based on their vast experience in the industry. The Gangi crew worked diligently with the teams at Six Degrees Architects and Visioneer Builders to ensure that the project ran smoothly and to schedule. With a reliable and dedicated project manager, all works were undertaken to a high standard and exceeded our expectations.

Cotton On: Headquarters

Full premium office fit-out including custom lighting design

The Cotton On Group is a long term client of Gangi Electrics - since 2012 we've worked in 14 of their buildings, either brand new or redeveloped.

We helped complete a full fit-out of their global headquarters in Geelong, including design and installation of a large data fibre network, custom lighting, audiovisual and video conference systems. Their headquarters is a large, state-of-the-art building, which houses up to 1,500 staff and features a kitchen, restaurant, lobby, world-class gym and garden.

How Gangi Electrics delivered

To complete the fit-out we worked with drawings from Cotton On Group's engineers, then met with key stakeholders and the Cotton On Group IT department to finalise the design. One custom lighting solution was proposed by the architect that stretched 250m by 40m. The installation of this incredible design and its supporting structure was entirely designed and implemented by Gangi Electrics, using millimetre precision to interlock its three stages together over 9 months.

Whilst the precinct is continually evolving, we assist The Cotton On Group with electrical maintenance and service in all their sites. As part of our long-term relationship we also help with maintenance, support and project management for their offices around the globe in locations including Singapore, Brazil, USA and South Africa.
